Community Development and Sustainability in Guatemala

March 4 – March 12, 2017
The core of Mayan civilization, Guatemala is rich in biodiversity and culture, with spectacular landscapes dotted by volcanoes, ruins, and the resplendent quetzal. We will spend the first part of our trip visiting rural villages around Chimaltenango, with San Martin Jilopeteque being our home base, before spending a few days in beautiful Antigua, a UNESCO world heritage site where you can hike an active volcano and roast marshmallows at the top.

Program Fee: $1,975
The program fee includes: housing in double rooms, three meals per day, site visits and cultural events, in-country transportation, ASU faculty support and international health insurance.
